MACOMB COUNTY

Scofflaws listed online

Macomb has become the first county in Michigan to place online a list of candidate and campaign committees that have ignored state financial reporting requirements and now owe fines as a result.

County Clerk Carmella Sabaugh now lists on her Web site all the political committees, currently 45, that have dodged reporting requirements and have refused to pay the subsequent fines for failure to report.

The public can access the information by logging on to macombcountymi.gov/clerksoffice and clicking on the Elections Department.
